

For Immediate Release

LEVROIL LLC Adds Freight Capability To Web Site

Pittsburgh, PA - April 1, 2010 – LEVROIL LLC has adopted a new tool within its e-commerce arsenal that accurately calculates not only USPS, FedEx, and UPS but also common carrier freight as well.

During checkout, LEVROIL customers will have at their fingertips the tools necessary to procure their order quickly, efficiently, and accurately. Living up to the LEVROIL promise, this enhanced application provides a seamless method to order and ship within typically three to five business days.

This newly improved shipping tool allows the customer to choose from over 25 freight carriers, get real-time competitive rates, decide on transit times, or even use a familiar trusted carrier. The days of ordering and calling around for best pricing is a thing of the past. Current technology has allowed manufacturers the freedom to focus on what counts. That is making a quality product at the right price and getting it out the door to the customer.

LEVROIL is excited about its new ability and continues to provide forward-thinking services to its clientele.

###

About LEVROIL LLC

LEVROIL LLC is a premium industrial lubricant manufacturer and was created to serve as an outlet to the rising cost of lubricants in the market today. LEVROIL's strategy is to keep pricing for high value products competitive and combine that with an easy to use ordering system. We accomplish this by maintaining low overhead and pass the savings to the customer. Together, this combination is aimed to meet the needs of manufactures and end-user customers alike. LEVROIL offers a line of Industrial, Food Grade, Biodegradable and specialty products. More information about LEVROIL LLC can be found at <http://www.levroil.com>.

SOURCE: LEVROIL LLC

LEVROIL LLC
Media Relations
sales@levroil.com
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania